MISSING FROM THE INTERNET

Dr. Brian O'Blivion, adjunct professor at University of Mary Washington in Virginia, disappeared from the Internet, leaving students enrolled in his #ds106 course without leadership with the exception of teaching assistant Jim Groom, who had earlier warned that an attempt to seek Dr. O'Blivion out would put the entire course in jeopardy. Foul play has not been ruled out. Dr. O'Blivion's whereabouts are currently unknown. If you see him, approach with caution as he has not had any face-to-face interaction in over 27 years.

If sighted, contact Dr. O'Blivion's class via Twitter using hashtag #ds106.
